What is a Gap Year?

A gap year is constructive time out to travel in between life stages.

The benefits of a gap year...

1

Take a break for your mental health

2

Gain life experience

3

See the world and discover other cultures

4

Explore your uni
and careers
options

5

Gain and develop skills

Stats to back it up!

...of students that took a gap year entered uni on their return

...of students took their academic work more seriously after having a gap year

...of gappers believe their gap year added to their employability

Students who took a gap year almost always overperformed academically in college, to a statistically significant degree

You can't put a price on travel. You can have 4 x A but if you haven't travelled you don't have a story to tell - you don't have any soft skills which employers look for.*

Solo Travel vs. Organised Trip

Why Organised Trips!?

Reliable

Cheaper

I don't have to worry about playing peacemaker with my friends over what we're gonna do. I can do what I like

Less stress, don't trust myself to sort everything and be time savvy, it's just more relaxing to not worry

I know exactly which skills I am going to learn.

Visit places I want

I feel safer, and it's not as stressful as having to organise everything yourself

Offers more independence

Finally can say that I did that 100% myself and was not guided by a teacher

Why Solo Travel!?

Gain independence

Freedom

Freedom

In control

Less structured and can change my mind about what I want to do during the year

Be able to be spontaneous

More tailored to your interests

Visit places you want

Can be expensive

Our biggest concern...

...your safety

1

Know the risks of the countries you are planning to go to

2

Support network Know where and how to get help

3

Respect local culture
Be aware and blend in
